BEYOND THE RIVER

Away Across the Mississippi is Held a Convincing Conversation.

"I tell you, sir, that they are one of the neatest combinations ever produced, and my experience of that sort of thing has been wide enough to entitle my judgment to some respect."

"Oh, I don't know," responded the first speaker's friend, with a little yawn, as though he didn't take much interest in the subject, "I have never been able to see much difference in those things. They are all pretty nearly the same size and made of about the same stuff."

This talk, of which the foregoing is a fragment, took place in Gallatin, Missouri, not long ago, in the snug office of Dr. M. P. Flowers, one of the leading physicians of the State, who followed up the vein in which he had introduced it substantially in these words:

"Nonsense; that is the rigmarole of a boy, or rather of a man who either doesn't know or doesn't care what he says. Those things, as you call them, are just as different as the moon is from green cheese. Now, liniments, lotions and ointments are very good in most cases for the relief of pain or inflammation. But, in the first place, they are unclean. They soil the hands and the linen, besides being always out of reach when they are most wanted."

"Well, my dear Doctor," sighed the traveler from the North, "what would you have? This is a wretched world anyhow, and nothing is ever at hand when it is wanted. You can't suggest anything —"

"Yes, I can," broke in the Doctor, thumping the table with his fist. "I can suggest BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER. I have tried it on my patients, and in all cases relief has followed in from three to forty-eight hours. The old plasters are stage coaches—the Capcine is a telegraphic dispatch. For instance in cases of Neuralgia, Muscular Rheumatism, Lumbago, retarded action of the Kidneys, and—"

"I give it up, Doctor, and in case of need I'll buy Benson's," said the traveler, pleasantly.

In the center of the genuine is CUT the word CAPCINE.

SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albuman will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

THE GREAT REPUBLIC.

During the past ten years the United States has sold to foreign countries of two staples, wheat and cotton, more than two thousand million dollars' worth. In a single year of the products of the soil more than $7,000,000 worth have been sold. These figures, says the Salt Lake Tribune, show how impossible it is to estimate the power of a country like ours. The real offensive and defensive power is not all. Before any combined attack could be made upon us, the only nations capable of making any dangerous combination would have to determine how their own people would live while the experiment of subduing the Great Republic was going on. They might settle to their satisfaction the question of armies and navies, but in the meantime what would be done for cotton and flour?

General Jackson at New Orleans made breastworks of cotton bales for his army. By the revolutions of commerce during the 68 years since that event it has come around that the coasts of the whole South are defended by her cotton bales, while the North has made an impregnable fortress out of her sacks of grain. Europe, with all her armies and navies, her modern dreadful guns and her mighty destructive projectiles, is cowed in the presence of our Northern wheat fields and Southern cotton fields. That fact carries a fearful irony with it. It has a mocking look upon its face which seems to say, "What of your great guns and all your soldiers and plated ships, if they cannot prevail against a sack of flour or a bale of cotton?" To this mighty power what will be equivalent to a fully equipped region, like that now constituting California and Oregon, will be added this year, and these additions promise to go on annually for the remainder of this century; even if in the meantime the Dominion on the North and Mexico on the South are not absorbed?

Who can estimate such a power or its future possibilities? The only danger which threatens all this majesty, a majesty which the world never witnessed anything like before, is from within. So ample are the people's liberties that they are careless about their preservation and so permit bad men who pretend to be bad and other bad men who pretend to be wearing out their lives serving God, to insidiously spread among the masses a growing disrespect for a free government.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is said that President Arthur thinks of choosing a Southern man to succeed Howe as Postmaster General. It lies between John Hancock of Austin, Texas, and Judge Morgan of Louisiana, now Minister to Mexico. The transfer of Secretary Chandler of the navy to the Postmaster Generalship has been suggested as valuable from a political standpoint.

John I. Ginn is about to renew publication of the Homer Index, at Lundy. The camp will no doubt become prominent some day, as the district can show more gold than any other on the coast. When capital is employed there, as it is elsewhere, Lundy will speak for itself.

After being suspended over three months the publication of the Red Bluff Sentinel has been resumed. In his address the editor says: "One thing a fool cannot do, that is kill an old established newspaper." He will now continue to issue the Sentinel regularly.

Speculation in Corpses at a Massachusetts Alms-House—A Horrible Story.

BOSTON, March 30.

There was a very large attendance at the investigation of the Legislative Committee of the charges of Governor Butler about the mismanagement of Tewksbury alms-house, selling bodies, etc. Dr. John Dickswell, graduate of Harvard Medical School, testified that the students received a large number of infants' bodies which they bought from Wm. Andrews, janitor, at from $3 to $5 each. Andrews said he obtained all the bodies from the alms-house. Andrews has since killed himself. Dissecting showed that in many cases the infants had no food for 24 hours before death. Witness gave the same testimony before the Grand Jury five years ago. He said the bodies were dissected on the same table with animals and the remains swept into the same receptacle. J. H. Chase, employed at the alms-house in 1880 and discharged for drunkenness, testified to driving a team containing a large number of bodies from the alms-house to Harvard; heard Marsh, Assistant Superintendent, say he received $10 for an adult body from Harvard and $12 from the female college. There were between three and four hundred deaths per year. Some bodies were pickled in pork barrels and sent to Boston by Marsh. Sometimes funeral services were held over coffins filled with wood. Governor Butler offered a letter alleging that Marsh prevaricated about the disposition of bodies.

How the Red Devils are Getting in Their Murderous Work.

LORDSBURG, March 29.

A messenger from Thompson's Canyon, eighteen miles northeast of here, gives intelligence of the murder by Apaches of Judge H. C. McComas of Silver City. McComas yesterday telegraphed from Silver City that himself, wife and child would arrive at this point last night. Mrs. McComas and her son were captured by the Indians.

A party just returned from the scene of the massacre, in Thompson's Canyon, found Mrs. Judge McComas shot through the head, lying by the side of the buckboard and stripped naked. Judge McComas was found about 200 yards South of his wife, shot in four different places, and also stripped naked. The boy is missing.

All the troops stationed at Fort Bayard are in the field. The country West of Silver City, New Mexico, is reported full of Indians. Several camps along the Gila have been attacked. Probably fifty whites have been murdered during the last four days. Arizona reports are to the effect that the Indians threaten annihilation to all the whites in Grant county.

An appeal was taken and the Supreme Court has now affirmed the judgment.

A Probability That Conkling Will be re-Arrested and Held For Trial.

NEW YORK, March 29.

The Grand Jury to-day began investigation of the case of George W. Conkling, Jr., who killed Wm. H. Haverstick, and he will probably be indicted and re-arrested. Coroner Smith, addressing the Grand Jury, instructed them to investigate the case and said Police Justice Smith had exceeded his powers to assume to decide that the homicide was justifiable. His action, the Recorder said, does not stop the Grand Jury from indicting Conkling.

Counsel for Mrs. Uhler have received instructions to begin legal proceedings against Dr. Amidon for the recovery of five hundred and fifty dollars which Mrs. Uhler claims to be due her out of the sum left by Haverstick at the time of his death.

NEW YORK, March 30.

Counsellor Howe said he had advised Conkling to remain out of the State over night to avoid arrest. He declared Conkling would demand immediate trial if he were indicted. Conkling passed the night at Taylor's hotel in Jersey City.

TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT.

MY REPUTATION AS A TAILOR is already established. "The Boss Tailor" lives in all country towns. They advertise shop-worn auction goods; they dispose of cloths not saleable in the larger cities, and are continually trying to mislead their patrons by false representations. MY STOCK

Is carefully selected. It is of the very best of Foreign and Domestic Manufacture and I am prepared to make suits of the latest style, cut from the finest goods, at prices never before equalled. My work speaks for itself. I guarantee a fit in every case. Call and examine my samples and prices. Leave your measure and be happy. Don't be misled by the "Boss." A new band will furnish the music for the ball to-night. They claim have a good prompter, or caller. It is to be hoped they have. Reno has been without one long enough.

While the snow was coming down this forenoon so that a pedestrian could hardly see his way along the streets, a squad of boys were playing marbles, totally unconscious of the storm.

"Young Mrs. Winthrop," like its predecessor, is a pretty play; yet it is more—it is a strong play, which "Esmeralda" is not. It is a natural play, which "Hazel Kirke" is not. And it is withal a play with a moral.

A man can always tell good beer by its color. Flat, tasteless beer is clouded and muddy, while good beer is of a clear, amber color. George Becker's beer is as clear as sunshine and as flavorous as a May rose. Try it and see.

Manager John Piper lost $32 on the Rice Surprise Party engagement in Reno. Let the people make it up to-morrow night by filling the theater. "Young Mrs. Wintrop" is a beautiful drama, and those who fail to see it will forever regret it. Secure seats early.

Business at the Wine House is always brisk. While other houses are complaining of dull times, Cheilovich & Co. are quietly sending their goods to all parts of the State, to fill orders from customers who have learned that they can buy liquors in Reno to as good advantage as in San Francisco. The Wine House is a popular establishment.

HONOR AMONG THIEVES.

How an Innocent Young Man Took in a Lot of Poker Sharps.

Those solid chunks of wisdom called proverbs, that we inherit from our wise ancestors, find exceptions occasionally, says the Greenville Bulletin. One of the best known of these is, "There is honor among thieves." A few evenings ago a couple of poker sharps induced a young man at Crescent to take a hand in a small game. His loose change went in the first hand. He then handed out a check for which he asked change, which was promptly given him. After receiving the cash for his check his luck changed and he succeeded in making considerable money, after which he excused himself from the game and left the room. Next morning when the sharps reckoned over the proceeds of their industry during the preceding evening, they found that the check had been issued by the defunct Dutch Hill Mining Company, and had been protested over four years ago. The failure of the proverb in this case could hardly be called total, as the innocent young man paid up several debts he owed around town with the cash he had received from the venerable check.

Send for One.

C. H. Gilman of the Red House, Sacramento, sends an illustrated price list of his goods. It is a handsome book of about a hundred pages, and will be sent free to any sending him their name. It it quite useful to any who order their goods that way. He is building up a large business.

"YOUNG MRS. WINTHROP."

A Society Drama that is Wonderfully Attractive.

"Young Mrs. Winthrop" has the reputation of being the most interesting and successful society drama ever written by an American author. It has been termed the rival of "Hazel Kirke" and "Esmeralda," which is a sufficient guarantee that it is a play of more than ordinary interest. It is to be played at the Nevada Theater to-morrow evening by the original company that first produced it at the Madison Square Theater in New York. Over one hundred seats have been reserved, and those who do not want to stand up should reserve their seats at once. The San Francisco Sunday Chronicle has this to say of "Young Mrs. Winthrop."

"Young Mrs. Winthrop"—the prettiest of modern plays, the most beneficially emotional story the stage has given us for a long time, has apparently caught hold of our theater goers. The last three audiences of the week were very large, and to all appearance now the coming week will see but few empty places in the Baldwin Theater. Applying to Young Mrs. Winthrop the tests we should apply to any great foreign play, it will be found to endure them and prove in all important points superior, inasmuch as its purity is something very unusual in emotional plays. It is decidedly novel in modern society dramas to find a plot without a villain, a story which does not involve in moral ruin the woman or the man. A household trouble that does not raise a suggestion of a blush, and comedy which does not turn on questionable characters. And yet it would be hard to find comedy more bright and pleasing, emotion and interest more intense and harrowing. Whatever faults may be found with the play, if we admit that Mr. Howard strains a point to continue the agony, that the reconciliation at the close is lengthened out by repetition and a slightly childish ebullition of jealousy, it is still so fine a work, so thoroughly true and natural in its exhibition of sufferings that are common enough, only they are not shown to the world, that it places its author far above any contemporary writer in this country or England. Beside it "Hazel Kirke" and "Esmeralda" are not worth mentioning, and the vast run of what have been called dramas sink out of sight. There are seven characters, each of them typical, each of them drawn in clear, strong colors, and each of them appealing to the best sense of everybody. In the hero and heroine we have the types of a gentleman and a lady drifting apart without vice, without any disagreement save the absolute pride of their natures. The old lawyer is a character not at all uncommon and forever delightful. The old mother is one of the most charming conceptions we have seen, and the bright-natured blind girl inspires the warmest love of an audience.

STILL GROWING.

Sacramento's Business Houses Building Up.

No. 116 J street, Sacramento, has been enlarged and now runs back 16½ feet, with a basement the whole length. The front half of the basement is devoted to the Red House country order department, where 15 men are kept busy doing up goods. The other half is used for carpets, matting, oil cloths, trunks, valises, carpet bags, traveling bags, satchels, etc. The country order business is kept busy supplying small stores in the interior and families with clothing, boots, shoes, dry goods and nearly every other kinds of goods by mail. The ground floor is filled with boots and shoes, clothing, furnishing goods, etc., to be disposed of at wholesale and retail. Three archways in the wall connect it with No. 114, where a building of the same size is now being erected. The store now at 106 will be moved into it as soon as it is completed. These changes are made necessary on account of the rapid increase of business. C. H. Gilman is sole proprietor, and though still a young man, has built up the business himself. He has the satisfaction of having the largest sales-room on the coast. He has just issued a fine catalogue of nearly 100 pages. He has only one price, a system which he originated and never deviates from. All goods marked in plain figures.

Spend a Pleasant Evening.

While the Fire Department proper of Reno has never been what it should be, the juvenile portion of it—the hose company—are perhaps as live a company of boys as can be found on the coast. Juvenile Hose Company, No. 2, has made arrangements for a grand ball this evening, the proceeds of which will be used for the benefit of the Department. Tickets enough have been sold to insure a financial success, and the boys want every holder of one to attend their ball and get their money's worth, as they certainly will if they go to the theater this evening.

Says He Can Explain Things.

W. H. Crane, former Register of the Land Office at Susanville, lately arrested for alleged forgery while in the office, has been placed under $5,000 bonds for which he gave the necessary bail and was released. His two sureties were John R. Lockwood, former Receiver of the Land Office, and Rollin A. West of Lassen county. Crane says he can give a satisfactory explanation of every transaction in the office while he was Register.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

An Old Man Caned by His Most Intimate Friends.

Last night about 9 o'clock a procession collected together and marched to the house of Thomas Barnett. The old man was asleep, but that didn't make any difference. The crowd marched in and took charge of the house and began to make things rattle, as if they had a deed of the property, and they continued to carry on with a high hand. There was music and dancing in the parlor, where the young men and blooming girls had a good time all to themselves, while the old foggies occupied the sitting-room and wasted time in a manner peculiar to themselves. At 12 o'clock the invading army was invited into the dining-room, where a long table was loaded with lots of things good to eat and drink. It was a splendid lay-out for a hungry man or thirsty sinner, and the crowd was not backward in manifesting their appreciation of it. All seemed to have well-developed appetites, and their drinkatites were remarkable. When they had somewhat appeased their hunger and got down to systematic drinking, D. Pechner rapped the company to order and made a neat little speech, telling Mr. Barnett that it was a shame for him to be 56 years old at just that hour of the night, and then, on behalf of his friends, presented him with an elegant gold-headed rosewood cane. This was a real surprise to the old man, and he didn't know what to say for some minutes. It seemed to knock the sand from under him. He knew it was his birthday, but he had not anticipated a present. He thanked them all in a feeling manner, and speeches followed from Coleman, Fredrick and all corners of the table. Meanwhile Louis Abraham was stuffing himself in a scandalous manner. It seemed as if he had lost his own appetite and found a mule's. Among those present were C. Coleman and wife, Louis Abraham and wife, D. Pechner and family, Mrs. Levy of San Francisco, I. Fredrick and son, S. Jacobs and wife, Aaron Abraham, Mr. Cohen of Bodie, Mrs. Schaffer, Mrs. Morris Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Russack, Miss Fannie Russack, and a score of young ladies and gentlemen, who were as happy as could be until a late hour.

PLUMAS ITEMS.

News Culled from the Columns of Our Greenville Exchange.

The bridge at the lower end of Clover Valley will be rebuilt soon. It is now in a shaky condition.

Mrs. Ruth, the noted rifle shot, is at Crescent mills suffering severely from inflammatory rheumatism.

A large plum tree in the yard at Mr. Stampfl's place looks like a huge bouquet; it is a solid mass of white blossoms. This is the earliest that trees have been in bloom since the valley was settled.

Bull, Morton and Galbraith started on Tuesday for the Middle Fork, to commence operations on a wing-dam near Minerva Bar. The coming Summer will be very favorable for river mining operations.

A. D. Hallsted has made a good quartz strike in the vicinity of Rich Gulch.

The telephone has now been in use during nearly a year, with hardly a day of interruption, between Prattville, Bidwell's bridge, Crescent Mills and Greenville, where it makes connection with the Western Union telegraph.

This rain will be of great value to us. Most of the seeding in the valley is done, and as the weather is warm the growth of all kinds of vegetation will be very rapid. Our mines will also be vastly benefited. The water is rising steadily in the Round Valley reservoir with a fair prospect that a sufficient stock may be accumulated to last for some mouths at least.

A few days ago Willie Stampfl was riding on horseback, the animal fell and came down the hill. He was not seriously hurt, but his watch was crushed flat, though it was a heavy silver American watch. The centre post was driven through the case, as a punch might be driven by a hammer. How the young man escaped being very seriously hurt, if not killed outright, is hard to understand.

A short time ago a telegraphic message was received at the office in Greenville for a merchant in Susanville. From this point the message had to be carried by a special messenger at a cost of $17. The same expense must attend all messages for the same place, except that a message could be sent to Reno and mailed from that point to Susanville, but an ordinary letter from San Francisco would reach the same destination about as quick.

The Indians bring into town and offer for sale some splendid trout weighing from three pounds and upward. These trout are taken with the spear. The Indians are exempt from the provisions of the law for the protection of fish and game, but surely it is too bad that such fine fish should be destroyed in such an unsportsmanlike and barbarous manner. When these trout are in the mood for rising to the fly or taking bait they are very gamy and furnish splendid sport to all lovers of "the gentle craft."

Round Trip Tickets.

A special dispatch from San Francisco to the GAZETTE this afternoon states that on the first of April the Central Pacific will sell round trip tickets at all the Nevada offices for five and a half cents per mile.

ATTENTION.

Meeting of Stockholders of the Nevada Agricultural Society.

There will be a meeting of stockholders of the Nevada Agricultural Association to-morrow at 2 o'clock, at Justice Young's office, and a full attendance is desired. If anything is to be done toward having a Fair this year it is not too early to begin the work of preparation. Stockholders are requested to pay particular attention to this notice.

The storm stops all prospecting in Peavine district, except underground work.
